GOP opens fund drive

Hancock County Republicans mobilized Tuesday night to carry the county and state for the Goldwater-Miller ticket in this year's presidential election and named Charles Thomas, druggist, as finance chairman in their drive to raise $2,693 locally for the campaign.

A little more than $300 has been collected to date, according to David A. Treutel, secretary-treasurer of the county GOP executive committee. He noted that of the quota assigned to Hancock County, $1,000 will remain here for local expenses.

Wilson Wehre, county chairman, announced the appointment of James Mayfield of Waveland as county precinct supervisor in preparation for the Nov. 3 voting. Mrs. Fred Wagner, committee vice chairman, was named magic number supervisor, the program under which the telephone solicitation of votes for the GOP ticket will be handled.

Wehre told the Republican meeting at the Courthouse their mission is to organize every precinct in the count and seek the turnout of voters who normally do not participate in presidential elections.

Goldwater-Miller campaign headquarters will be opened here in the near future to handle distribution of literature, bumper strips and the like. Persons interested in volunteer work with the GOP should call Wehre, Treutel or Mrs. Wagner.

Contributions should be mailed to Thomas or Treutel, c/o P.O. Box 430, Bay St. Louis.

CD post goes to Favre

Chester Favre of Bay St. Louis, a deputy on the staff of Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., was appointed county civil defense director by the board of supervisors Monday.

The post had been vacant since the first of the year and Favre's selection was designed to augment the sheriff's supply of short wave radio in Beat 5. Supervisors also voted to require the county coroner to turn in his radio so the sheriff may assign it where he feels it will serve best in law enforcement.

Ladner made his second appearance before the board within a month, urging them to get in the radio and permit to make the assignments. He said he assigned one to a deputy in each beat. He noted his predecessor, Gerald V. Price, had placed them in automobiles he thought would best handle needs.

R.G. Hubbard, Jr., president of the board, said he would prefer to talk with each supervisor before going into the matter further and it was he who suggested Favre for the civil defense post as one means of Goldwater to the state and count organizations was read calling for supporters to unite behind the official Republican electors. Donations should be channeled through the official Republican party, Wehre declared.

Present for the meeting Tuesday night were Wehre, Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield, Treutel, Mrs. Wagner, Thomas, William Frisbie, Mrs. James McDonald and Bob Lauderdale.

Bay business double in June

Business activity in Bay St. Louis more than doubled in June over the preceeding year, according to Mississippi Business Review. The August issue of the Mississippi State University publication, using a 1956-58 average equalling 100, gives Bay St. Louis a June 1964 index figure of 353 compared to 150 for June 1963.

The June figure was a 65 point jump up from May's 288 and continues Bay St. Louis as the state leader. Although business activity for the state as a whole is up 74 per cent during the last six years to an index figure of 174 the local city's increase of 253 per cent is more than three times that of the state.

Pascagoula with an increase from 257 in May to 305 in June replaces Brandon in a second spot on the index. Brandon with 261 is third high in the state.

Latest figures for neighboring municipalities are: Gulfport 175 in June 1964, 152 in May 1964 and 150 for June 1963; Pass Christian 171, June '64, 152, May '64, and 138, June '63; Picayune, 164, June '64, 142, May '64, and 144, June '63; and Poplarville, 163, June '64, 158, May '64 and 149, June '63.

Move Logtown PO for MTO museum

The little U.S. Postoffice building of Logtown which served that area since 1883 until it closed Sept. 30, 1963, has been moved right into the space age.

The 209 square foot frame building was abandoned by its owner, Roy Baxter, Jr., when he leased his land to the government as part of Mississippi Test Operations.

Through special arrangements with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, NASA's agent for land acquisition and construction at MTO, the U.S.

Postoffice building was signed over by Baxter for a token fee to a new role at the test site.

The postoffice building will be preserved to exhibit records and other relics of this historically rich region. It will not house any personnel.

All of the new buildings being constructed at MTO in a $250 million moon base project are being built especially to withstand the pressure and vibrations of the rockets being static fired. Other structures which may be retained for temporary use must be evacuated and isolated during static firing.

The little Logtown Postoffice is being placed in the old community of Gainesville across the street from manager William C. Fortune's office on the Pearl River. It is about eight miles from its original site.

Baxter and his mother, Mrs. Roy Baxter, will be the last

MTO staff dips bit this week

Population dropped somewhat at the Mississippi Test Operations after its record high of 2,519 last week and officials attributed the decline to a combination of factors.

The total count is 2,330 of which 1,896 are contractor personnel.

Rainy weather has caused road work to bog down; the emergency services building has been completed and the contractor, C and B Construction Co., has moved out, and each prime contractor has a few sub-contractors off the job.

There are more than 250 prime and first tier contracts in effect now at MTO so with more than 30 odd jobs under contract when any sub-contractor is inactive there is quite a population decrease, MTO personnel explained.

Architect hired for City Hall remodeling

The first step toward remodeling City Hall's second floor was taken Monday when Commission Council employed Architect Fred Wagner of Oubre and Wagner to draw up preliminary plans and specifications.

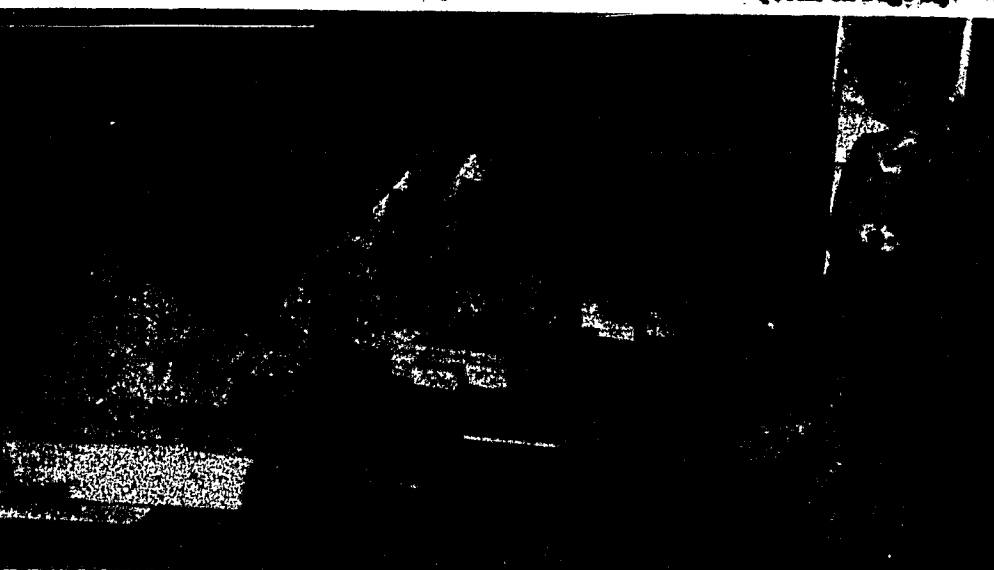

Financing of the improvement, if carried out, will come from revenues of the city's natural gas division, according to Commissioner of Utilities J. Cyril Glover. Funds from the same source were used for remodeling the ground floor, completed in 1959.

In other recent action, council accepted W. A. McDonald and Sons, low bid for remodeling two 3/4 ton International pickup trucks, 1965 model. One truck will be used by the Natural Gas Division and one by the water department.

McDonald's bid was a $1,976.50 per truck with trade-in allowances of $650 on a 1956 International now owned by the city and of $225 on a 1957 Ford. Fred Hongland Ford's bid was $2,459.69 with trade-in of $400.69 and $250.00, while

New teachers due

Nine new faces have already been named to the faculty of the Bay St. Louis public schools and at least two more are due to round out the staff before the 1964-65 session opens next Friday.

Superintendent J.D. McCullough was in Oxford Monday looking for an assistant junior high football coach to handle the passers and junior high program at North Bay School and the consulted Tuesday with the state department of education's teacher placement bureau in Jackson Tuesday. Billy Bowman had been hired for the post but resigned because of an offer of higher pay in another occupation, the superintendent reported.

He also is faced with filling a vacancy in the high school English department created by the resignation during the last week of Mrs. Freddie Bourgeois who had accepted the job.

Of the eight teachers already signed, five are additions to the faculty and the rest are replacements, McCullough said.

Bethus Kitchens with a bachelor's degree from Mississippi State University and a master's from Southern is coming from Bryce to teach the eighth grade at North Bay. Carol Bliskobarger, spring graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is coming from Waterloo, Wis.,

Teen Times

Despite the fact that we've heard nothing but gripes from our teen-age friends as the column has been absent from the paper on occasion, partly due to our vacation, we were disappointed to find absolutely no contributions when we returned to our desk. We know that Jeanne Rutherford has been busy keeping notes on local activities, but what has happened to our other contributors? If a few parents hadn't called to aid and abet us, there would be very little column again this week. So please get on the ball and let us know what's going on.

So in come and others leave - Nancy and Ellen McDonald are at present enjoying a three week trip to the World's Fair with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald. Ellen Plunkett has returned home after attending summer school; Katherine Spaulding is visiting in Tennessee; Karen Williams is home again after extended visits in Canton and Memphis, Tenn. Jan Marks accompanied her father, Captain Marks to St. Louis, Mo. Johnnie Green and Valon Suzanne returned home from Houston, Tex., after spending two weeks visiting Johnnie's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Blakeaway.

Berry Smith and Pennie Sue Webb reported a wonderful time in Vicksburg where they participated in the Miss Mississippi contest and have both been modelling back to college fashions at Edgewater Plaza. David and Ricky Hubbard are home again after travelling all over the west, California and other states for several weeks. Chuck Wagner is due to return from his final cruise to Curacao, Netherlands Antilles on the 29th. He plans to study mathematics at PRJC preparing to take Naval Academy entrance exams.

Bernie Benigno arrived home for a brief overnight visit last Sunday, but had to leave for his job in Baton Rouge bright and early Monday a.m.

Comet Bernard is assisting Barbara Fayard at Barbara's Beauty Shop. We hear that Connie has a new heart interest. Kathleen McAnley is now the proud possessor of a driver's license.

Tom and Tier Mayfield have progressed in their flying lessons having both soloed two weeks ago.

Get well wishes go to Ronnie Farrell who received severe burns when a house gas tank which he was helping to install exploded last week and to Budie Longmire who received a bad cut on his foot about three weeks ago. He had to give up his job as landscaper at Bayside Park due to the injury. Riley Walker took over for Buddy.

Phyllis and Christine Sauer had as weekend guests Pat McMurray and Peggy Norris of New Orleans and Mary Meyer of Baton Rouge.

Delores Rinehart is the lucky winner of an award Sunday night at St. Clare's Church Fair.

Pretty Pat Rosato, PRJC graduate who has helped decorate Coastal Savings office during the summer months, is most pleased over the news that she has been awarded a one year stipend to study cytotechnology at Charity Hospital - the program coming under sponsorship of Cancer Research. Pat is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Santo B. Rosato of Bay St. Louis.

Sue Ann Buehler attended a production of South Pacific in which her cousin Cathy Cofatu was a member of the cast when she spent last weekend as Cathy's guest in Metairie. Barbara Cunningham has decided to work for at least a year. Then she will probably enter PRJC.

Happy birthday wishes go to David Compretta who was 14 on Tuesday, Aug. 10.

...two more or less peaceful vacation weeks, we've been a bit frustrated as so much was happening and we couldn't get away from it. Now, back at the typewriter, we have no more to say. Nothing, absolutely nothing will come forth.

Quite daylight saving

...the vacation. It was strictly fun except for a nasty cold somewhere between here and Tennessee, which was determined to hang on for ever. Otherwise, all was well. The only thing we really regret is once again being in the alarm clock; in fact we're seriously considering up petitions which would urge all businesses to close down and close around 7 or maybe it would have to be 8. We know chronic early risers wouldn't think much of it, but at the moment it sounds like a real fine idea. Enough wishful thinking, time to catch up on some sleep. We're quite late, but better late, etc.

Parkers celebrate 50 years

More than 150 friends and relatives called Sunday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. Claudius Leopold Parker entertained with open house at their home on Old Spanish Trail in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Rev. J. Cude Rousseaux, retired Methodist minister, blessed their marriage and Rev. Jack Smith, pastor of Waveland Baptist Church, led the group in prayer.

A gold color scheme was carried out in the decorations with arrangements of yellow mums, gladioli and roses used with fern and ivy throughout their home.

Mrs. Ruby Bennett, sister of Mrs. Parker, poured punch while Miss Mildred Parker, the couple's granddaughter, and Miss Kathleen Maloney, assisted in serving the anniversary cake and petit fours. Each was presented with a shoulder bougainvillee.

Mr. Parker planned a corsage of gold mums to the shoulder of her gold embroidered dress and Mr. Parker's boutonniere was tinted gold.

Friends drove over from New Orleans, Mobile, Gulfport and other places to extend congratulations along with a host of neighbors. Mrs. Parker is the former Maude Eucharist Osborn of Logtown.

Good two ways

All too often, it sometimes seems to us, we can think of things the county or the municipalities should do that cost money. When we already needed to run to catch up, our speeded up growth of the last two years has just made many of these expenses almost imperative.

Anyhow this week we have a suggestion whereby we could save a little money every time we have an election. It's simple—further reduce the number of precincts. Already five precincts previously in MTO's test site or buffer zone have been combined into two. Beat 2's Aaron Academy and Flat Top precincts are to be consolidated with Supervisor Dolph Kellar looking for a place for those people to vote. In Beat 1, Napoleon, Logtown and Gainesville are being consolidated with Pearlinton, though somehow Ansley, the county's smallest precinct, so far remains unchanged.

As Editor Lamar Sledge of the Kemper County Messenger points out, in the days when horse and buggy provided the means of getting to and from the polls, we needed these scattered, and small, precincts. The automobile has changed that need as it has so many things.

Last year in the second Democratic primary 21 voted at Ansley. If the Democratic executive committee was able to provide all four election officials for that box (sometimes they have trouble finding four who will serve) then each vote at Ansley cost the taxpayers about $1.30 plus the additional cost of printing ballots for that precinct.

We believe the supervisors could reduce the 22 remaining precincts by at least five. Of course this would cut at a little patronage on election day, but we doubt if that is very important nowadays since election officials are paid very little. In fact, sometimes it's hard to get satisfactory ones to serve.

Also, and this is important, such a reduction would presumably narrow the gap between our largest boxes and our smallest. For instance, Kila in Beat 4 last Aug. 27 voted 410 while, Rocky Hill, also in Beat 4, voted 60. In Beat 1 Pearlinton's 182 compared with Ansley's 21; while in Beat 5 the spread was from Adlington's 96 to Waveland's 534. Since each precinct has the same vote in political party matters, the 21 in Ansley have the same voice there as do the 594 Waveland—a 28 to 1 disparity.

Yup! The more we think about it, the better the idea sounds. Save money and perhaps even things up, politics wise, all at the same time. And Nov. 3 is just about here.

The Mississippi Legislature POLITICOS SPEAK

BY RALPH SOWELL JR.

Monday will be the starting day for the Democrats' National Convention and the Mississippi delegation to the Atlantic City meeting will, without doubt, be the center of attention, and up here in the national news.

Flavorful might begin before that date, however, when an attempt will be made to amend the regular white Democratic party in Mississippi.

Although Hinds County Chancellor Stokes Robertson outlined the newly-created Freedom Democratic Party last week, the pro-integration, Negro group will still be in contention for the 68 seats at the convention.

Robertson outlined the party for several reasons, among them being that the Mississippi political party already bears the name "Democratic."

Gov. Paul Johnson spoke to delegates to the National meeting in Jackson last week and advised them to consider supporting a fourth man for President "if we can find one we can vote for."

The governor has declined to say what position he will take in the election, but did say he would not attend the convention as a delegate unless there is an "emergency."

Gov. Johnson urged delegates to remain solid and quiet and at the chairman of the delegation make all comments in Atlantic City.

There has been much speculation over who the Mississippi delegation would support for vice president, since the presidential election is the center of the Mississippi delegation's interest. A Washington correspondent has reported that President Johnson's inability to make a decision on this question is because of his fear of losing the South.

The President's intention to name Sen. Robert H. Humphrey, whom Gov. Johnson tapped as "the worst enemy we could have in our country," has been because he wants to carry this territory over the fence. Johnson's manager of the new civil rights law and order bill with the liberals preventing the Mississippi Freedom Party.

President Johnson, it is said, will use it to show the Mississippi delegation is not united, because he is afraid that if the Mississippi delegation is not united, other Southerners will be discouraged from coming to the convention. Other Southerners will be discouraged from coming to the convention. Other Southerners will be discouraged from coming to the convention.

Postscripts

When reading or listening to various and assorted individuals' comment on the up-coming presidential race between Senator Barry Goldwater and President Lyndon Johnson, you almost have to read or listen with a questioning mind. For instance, months ago it was almost a foregone conclusion that Mr. Drew Pearson would favor President Johnson, and his columns to date, when on that topic, have shown his pre-judgment.

On the other hand it was even more certain where the weekly Human Events would stand. It has campaigned for the senator for months. And conversely never an issue goes by without some major story aimed at discrediting the president.

In the case of both of these illustrations the facts each sets forth are probably true as far as they go, but we always wonder if all the facts are set forth and in proper perspective. We wish we knew a fool-proof way to sift all these words and opinions but we don't. However, not infrequently an opinion giver makes the task easy.

For instance in Tuesday's Times-Picayune there was a report of an interview with Swedish Correspondent Hans Von Friesen. In some detail this newsman's derogatory comments about Senator Goldwater are reported. Among the things Mr. Von Friesen had to say about the Republican candidate were: "They (Europeans) in the know believe he's too emotional and therefore dangerous should he win the Presidency"; the Europeans were "shocked" when Goldwater won the nomination; and "Previously (past presidential campaigns), we'd taken the attitude that whoever won would be okay, but now Europeans are much concerned lest Goldwater win".

Coming from an experienced foreign correspondent for a well-known paper, the Svenska Dagbladet of Goteborg, Sweden, this made our ears perk up. Here was a man whose views should certainly be open where our presidential candidates are concerned. Even allowing for the advanced socialism of Sweden, it's hard to believe he would air such strong views about Senator Goldwater without real basis. You just naturally feel there must be merit in what he says.

Now let's see what he said about President Johnson in the same interview. "He's a good actor. Though I have never met President Lyndon B. Johnson in person, from what I read of him, he and Khrushchev are much the same types".

A lot of people will understandably think Senator Goldwater got off light compared to the president.

Christ school CD posts opens Sept. 8

A few vacancies remain for new pupils at Christ Episcopal Day School for all fall session which opens with a full day of classes Tuesday, Sept. 8, school officials said this week. Enrollment is expected to run close to the 220 of last year.

Mrs. Warren Lessor will join the faculty as second grade teacher succeeding Mrs. Gay Parsons who resigned as she expects to move away.

Mrs. Don Coffey is a new addition to the staff and will handle physical education. Mrs. Lambert Boyd, Jr., who formerly taught that subject, will now devote full time to her office duties.

The large Oak Harbor subdivision being developed in the Pearlinton area by Charles Hill was approved with his hand for utility improvements.

A number of petitions on the state Tax Commission of home-land exemption applications were considered and action will be taken on most of them at a meeting on Aug. 18 at 10 a.m. Friday, Aug. 18, after the deadline for filing applications Aug. 27. Complaints of Calhoun Avenue were rejected Monday.

Letters to The Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:
I have written the following letter to John D. Smith, highway commissioner for the Southern District of Mississippi.

Dear Sir:
You don't know me because I live on State Highway 600 between Ceasar and Necaise and I know you haven't been on this particular section of State Highway within your District or you would have done something to it, because if there ever was a State Highway this everyone should be ashamed of, this is it.

I know the Picayune people opposed you in the last election, but I've again the worst section of highway lies in Hancock County where people supported you.

You state this road between Ceasar and Necaise would be fixed during your next term of office, if elected. A year has passed and still no survey or anything else has been started. You promised that after the Kila to Bay St. Louis road was completed, this highway would be your next project, but now I understand that the road between Bay St. Louis and the missile base has to be four-laned.

I happen to be a small rug farmer and this is my only source of income. At times I can't even get out my front gate. Now if I lived on some local county road I could appeal to a supervisor, but in this case, the pat answer I get is that this is a state highway and they don't want to spend any money on it because the state is going to fix it. So I guess back and forth and we still have to plow through the mud if we can get through.

This is a mail route, school route, milk route, broad road and the shortest way from Picayune to Gulfport, plus any number of gravel trucks hauling from the pit above Necaise to NASA, Picayune, etc.

This road is graded on an average of three times a month and the ditches haven't been pulled in five years to my knowledge—labeled the middle is graded with a mound of dirt on each side where the water can't drain off but remains on the roadbed, and you know what happens to a road where the water doesn't drain off.

The bridge across Carabola Creek on Highway 600 should be in the Smithsonian Institute under the title of a post Civil War bridge instead of a potential death trap to the mailman, school children and others who have to use this road.

Now I know everybody wants a road and I also know funds are limited. I believe if you would take time out from your busy schedule and take a ride on this highway, I know you would do something for us, if only to put some gravel on it, pull the ditches where it will drain and do something to these bridges before somebody gets killed, perhaps a busload of school children.

Yours truly,
JOHN F. McELLIGOTT
Lessor.

P.S. Don't come in your own car, borrow an old one or if possible come in a jeep or swamp buggy.

Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON - For various reasons, it looks as if television is going to be up against the Congressional gun this year. Here are some of the shots who are shooting at it. Sharpshooter No. 1 is Sen. John D. Doolittle, D-Calif., who blames television for our scandalous juvenile delinquency increase. He is supported by Sen. Ken Keating, R-N.Y., in tough language they have warned the networks that there's just absolutely no change in the rate of crime and not being closed out to the public—especially by NBC and ABC.

Sharpshooters No. 2 are Rep. James C. Calkins, R-N.Y., and Henry Reuss, Wis., with Rep. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., all Democrats, who want to probe CBS's accusation of 50 per cent of the New York Yankees. They wonder how other ball clubs will be able to get publicity when the Yankees are owned by one of the major tv networks.

Sharpshooter No. 3 is Barry Goldwater, who claims the networks have been unfair to him.

Sharpshooters No. 4 are Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., and Sen. Bill Proxmire, D-Wis., who point to the hookup between defense industries and the tv industry.

This may be the most important criticism of all. For here the Congressional shooters point out that not merely a few ball games, but the question of the military budget, and indirectly, of peace and war is at stake.

Baseball, tv and defense

The possibility that CBS might favor the Yanks on tv would affect box office receipts or who would play in the World Series. But it would not affect the fate of nations.

The close link between TV stations and big defense industries, however, could, it becomes extremely important, therefore, to know how much these defense-owned stations are influencing the public's mind regarding bigger defense budgets, continuation of obsolete weapons, intensifying the cold war criticizing the policy of co-existence; failure to criticize cost-plus contracts, Pentagon inefficiencies, or any number of everyday problems which link public information with war and peace.

Even if the tv audience owned by defense industries lean over backward to be fair and impartial—as it is assumed CBS will do regarding baseball—No tv station should be in the embarrassing conflict-of-interest position where it has to make these decisions.

Yet the National Broadcasting Co. is wholly owned by RCA, one of the top defense contractors. General Electric, the No. 3 defense contractor, owns the most powerful radio and tv complex in central New York. Westinghouse, a major contractor, owns a sizable tv-radio network of its own—and, incidentally, does an excellent public service job. General Tire and Rubber, which manufactures the Polaris missile, owns some of the major tv and radio stations in the nation; so does American Aviation, another defense contractor.

It will be interesting to see what the probes of links between tv and baseball also do about links between tv and defense contractors.

Speaking of baseball, this column's report that some D.C. tv stations failed to carry the special interview with secretary of State Dean Rusk on the Viet Nam crisis because of baseball, caused sparks to fly.

The Rusk interview, filmed after the secretary of state had been up most of the night and was dog-tired, was scheduled for network airing at 7:30 p.m. WTOP, the CBS outlet in Washington, had a ball game scheduled and aired the Rusk interview between 11:30 p.m. and 12:30 a.m.

WRC, the NBC-owned and operated station, did not show Rusk at the network time, but did show him in prime time, between 9-10 p.m.

On Aug. 5, at the height of the Vietnamese crisis, with American Bombers having just returned from raiding North Vietnam PT boat installations and the world wondering whether Red China would retaliate, President Johnson delivered a virtually important speech at Syracuse at noon.

Unlike the other networks, ABC did not carry the president's speech. Instead, it carried two game shows. Get the Message and The Missing Link.

CBS did better by Goldwater and the Republicans one week later. I interrupted its entire network at 2:25 p.m. Aug. 12, to carry the entire press conference of Goldwater, Eisenhower, Nixon and Miller. It lasted 61 minutes until 3:24, much to the indignation of regular viewers who missed their favorite program Password and squawked loudly to local stations.

Such are some of the headaches of tv and radio programmers. The rewards, however, are also great. Leonard Goldenstein, president of ABC, once told how some years ago he was told that if he could scrape up $25,000,000 he would acquire the ABC network. He did so. But this year he has $300,000 for the football rights on the network and lost out to a higher bidder.

Hill every other Wednesday. Lottie (Mrs. Garfield) Ladner is chairman of the event sponsored by the Sodality of the church.

Rev. Canisius Hayes, pastor of Lakeshore and Pearlinton Catholic Churches, was given a farewell party at St. Joseph's Parish Hall at 4 p.m. Sunday Father Hayes has been in the area for the past 51 years and all of his parishioners are genuinely grieved over his departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Baker, jr., children, Winthrop, III, John and Michael of Baltimore, Md., have arrived for their annual visit with his parents.

Buddie Wilson surprised wife Geraldine, mother Grace Bordages and grandparents, Lottie and Garfield Ladner when he arrived here Sunday night, (actually at 2 a.m. Monday), on leave from the U.S. Marine Corps in San Diego several weeks ahead of schedule. He was expected early next month.

Margie and Tom Logue spent the weekend in Houston, Texas where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle La Plant.

Pet care drive

The time has definitely come when something must be done about the animal dumpers and John McCloskey and your reporter have started out as a body of two in search of other animal lovers who will join us in finding some solution to this problem. An animal shelter is needed and NOW, Mr. McCloskey has taken in a homeless cat and daughter Cathie adopted a tiny stray pup which some heartless person dumped in our neighborhood last Sunday and which would have undoubtedly died from neglect had not Dr. Bob Akers given it his usual devoted attention—these are just two instances—the same thing happens every day all over town... so anyone interested in this project is asked to either contact Mr. McCloskey or myself and we'll set a date for a meeting to see what can be done.

The Daniel C. Cefalus and children Cathy and Danny of Metairie have been doing quite a lot of entertaining during their vacation at their Sandy Street home in Waveland. Their guests have included Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Buehler, Mr. and Mrs. Sal Cefalus and sons Randy and Sal, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bristol and daughter, Jan, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Youngblood, daughter Betty Ann and pup "Ginger", and Miss Sue Ann Buehler. The Cefalus reluctantly return home on Aug. 24.

Saturday guests of Jane and Ellis Cuevas were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rehn and daughter Connie of New Orleans.

Our travelers

Mr. and Mrs. Octave Delph have returned from a vacation via jet to Colorado Springs, Dallas, Los Angeles and Glendale, Calif., where they visited Mrs. Delph's sister Mrs. Joan Mautray Demattis. They said they enjoyed every moment of their trip. Mildred and Earl Ramond proved once again it's such a small world when they bumped into Iva May and John McDonald the first day they attended the fair in New York. Earl said the crowds at the fair kind of took away from its pleasure, but they had a ball in New York and driving back and forth in cool 58-60 degree temperatures. The Ramonds arrived home Sunday night, but the McDonalds were headed for New England.

SUGAR CANE AMBASSADORS - Joe Ann Busse, Queen Sucre XXII, and J. B. Lutz, King Sucre, are flanked by welcoming committee as they lead 150-member good-will caravan of Louisiana Sugar Cane Festival Assn. on brief stop in Bay St. Louis Friday. Others are Powell Glass, jr., president, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce; Mayor John A. Scafide, festival association official, and Miss Betty Smith, reigning Miss Bay St. Louis.

Visitors galore

More visitors—Jennie (Mrs. Randolph) Bourgeois is feeling a bit low as all of her guests have left. Maj. Randolph Bourgeois, jr., Mrs. Bourgeois and children Wayne, Timothy and Renee Ann have returned to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., after spending a five week leave here and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sager and children Cynthia, Jeffrey, Patricia and Dianne have gone home to New Orleans after visiting Jennie and Jim's mother, Mrs. G.C. Sager in Henderson Point. Jim, by the way, gets belated get well wishes as he was recovering from major surgery during his visit.

A very happy birthday greeting goes to little Robbie Kirk Asher, son of Clara Lee and Albert Asher and grandson of Mrs. Ruth Ketchum, who was five on Friday, Aug. 14.

'Cap' and Henry Capdepon could have held a family reunion last week end if only son Henry, jr., could have made it home from North Carolina. In addition to the above mentioned Elsie Mae and W.L. Higgins, daughter Gloria, husband Chuck and children Dianne, David, Jimmy and Lizanne were here from Tuesday to Saturday when they left to visit the Chuck Bolins in Indiana before returning to their home in California. Gladys and Lamar Bassett of Pascagoula also arrived for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard Alinsworth Kidd left for New Orleans Wednesday after visiting Mr. Kidd's sister Mrs. C.F. Mitchell at her Carroll Avenue home. They were accompanied by their daughter, Marcia, a St. Joseph boarder who will return to school before their parents leave for their home in La Lima, Honduras.

Some of those spending the weekend in their summer homes included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McMurray and Myrtle Morris, and Mrs. George Wetzel, the C.M. Hutchinsons, Terri and 'Doc' Bosch, etc.

WELCOMING QUEEN - Betty Smith, Miss Bay St. Louis of 1964, exchanges observations with this year's queen of Louisiana Sugar Cane Festival Assn., Joe Ann Busse, during festival good-will stop here Friday.

Thelma and Joe Ruda vacationed at the World's Fair instead of Waveland as they usually do... they did, however, arrive for the weekend.

Spending last week with Gladys and Oscar Bethes were their daughter Mrs. Homer Lee Twigg, Dr. Twigg and five sons of Bethesda, Md.

Back from trip

Ruth and Red Lee returned home Sunday after a visit with former residents Mona and Ray Shepard at their home in Asheville, N.C. Ruth and Red are quite excited over the prospect of their fourth grandchild due to arrive around the end of September. Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Lee will be the parents. Donald has received his discharge from the Coast Guard and is happy to be a civilian again.

More ailing

More get well wishes... Bertha Genin doesn't have an ulcer but what ever her ailment is... the diet is the same as ulcer patients have to suffer. Gloria Peterson is recuperating from recent major surgery at Hancock General; Charlie Dickson's parents are patients in the same room at the same hospital and little Lisa Bordages who celebrated her fifth birthday at a party on Saturday Aug. 15, entered the hospital for hand surgery the following day.

Lynne Hall, who looks even more glamorous as a blonde, reports a fabulous tour of Europe with her parents, George and Norman, and Ella Favre... but after Paris, Rome, London, etc. she still insists there's no place like the Gulf Coast. They brought some beautiful gifts home to grandmama, Mrs. Thomas Brockman who decided she would remain at home while they took in the Continent.

Attention TV viewers
Bay St. Louis and Hattiesburg

WHAT KIND OF PICTURE DO YOU GET ON CHANNEL 12?

WVUE, Channel 12 in New Orleans, conducted a mail survey throughout your area asking "What kind of picture do you get on Channel 12?" Most people right in your area reported excellent reception on Channel 12, but some reported not-so-good reception.

Frankly, that bothered us. So much so, our Channel 12 mobile engineering team made a trip to your area to make sure you call it.

In a few cases, our engineers discovered trouble was in the TV set itself. In most cases, however, the antenna was to blame. It was either oriented for Channel 12, or it was an old antenna (for channels 2 to 6) that should be replaced with an all-channel antenna (for channels 2 to 13).

But for each and every case, our engineers discovered that Channel 12's signal in your area is as strong as that of any New Orleans station!

What kind of picture are you getting?

If it's not as good as it should be, why not have an antenna checked by your TV Serviceman? He will either orient your antenna for Channel 12 or replace it with an all-channel antenna. It'll give you a better picture on all existing channels - yet it costs more than an old-style antenna that picks up only a few channels.

The great, new ABC fall programs on Channel 12 start September 14. Why not call your TV Serviceman now?
